

Welcome to La Parrilla Steakhouse.

We have selected wines from different areas of Argentina which reveal the different expressions of the wines from each region.

Argentina is a vast country spread over for a vast area from the North to the South of the South American Continent. The eighth largest country in the world, it is the second largest country in South America after Brazil, and it's about one-third the size of the United States. Argentina is bordered by the Andes Mountains and Chile to the west.

The wines from Argentina express distinctly the characteristic and diversity of each area from Salta in the North to Patagonia in the South.
